31ST YEAR—NO. 38.

WHAT SIDE OF PEARL RIVER DO YOU LIVE, MISSISSIPPI OR LA?

This is a Very Important Question—If You Are Successful and Reside on This Side You Might Be a Sinner For Ever and Oppression—Mississippi Laws Have Educated This Impression to General Public—A Number of Examples Cited.

BOGALUSA, LA., IN MISSISSIPPI WOULD BE UNLAWFUL.

People of Louisiana Have Apparently Sought to Make Friends of the Business Men Who Have Settled in Their State—In Mississippi the Same Men Are Regarded as Enemies of the State—Big Men Make Big Business and Successes; Little Men Little Business and Failures.

It is a well known fact that the great mills at Bogalusa, La., right over the Mississippi line, was originally intended to have been located in Mississippi, but the laws of our State were made to prohibit it, thereby, hence its loss to our people. The socialistic tendency with which many of our laws regarding business and capital are tainted with, is responsible for this condition.

This is felt acutely in our neighboring county of Pearl River, and that which effects our neighbor and Southern Mississippi effects in a measure this part of the country. The Poplarville Free Press, published in Pearl River county, in a current issue takes the following shot at the situation, and the question naturally arises, What are we going to do about it?

Hon. W. H. Sullivan, general manager of the Great Southern Lumber Company, was recently re-elected mayor of Bogalusa recently. Says the Bogalusa Enterprise: "There never was any one man who meant so much to one city as W. H. Sullivan meant to Bogalusa."

Why is it that the people of Pearl River county apparently have no confidence in men who are connected with large business enterprises? They must be honest, else the stockholders of the corporations they work for would be losing money, and seek to have them dismissed. They are the first persons seen when co-operation is needed, and never fail to respond.

What chance would W. H. Sullivan have to be elected a member of our Board of Supervisors? He would be the same as Sullivan. He would be working for the same company. Pearl River would just be flowing by his right hand instead of his left. Yet what a difference it seems to make which side of that river one lives on? Living on the Bogalusa side, Sullivan is acclaimed as the community's greatest asset. On this side, in this county, he would be regarded as the most sinister force for evil and oppression.

Corporations are the same in Louisiana as in Mississippi. General managers have two feet, two hands, two eyes, and the same kind of bodies here as there. They have hearts, too—yes, it's true, according to all the doctors, including the "company doctors" of course.

Perhaps the real difference is not with the corporations and their general managers, but with us and our attitude. The people of Louisiana have sought to make friends of the business men who have settled within their State. The people of Pearl River county have regarded the same kind of men as enemies. Political tricksters and shyster lawyers have played upon our prejudices, in order to reap a selfish advantage themselves. How long are we going to let this foolish prejudice work in a hind way? How long are we going to allow ourselves to be made catspaws by men who care naught for the common welfare, but seek only personal aggrandizement? This section needs a lot of work.

It is going to take co-operation, effort to develop the cotton lands, reforest the acres not suited to cultivation, and populate our farms. It is going to take capital to establish new and permanent industries and develop our remaining resources. Have we a better chance by antagonizing them with money, and fighting them in every way, or by following Bogalusa's example of enlisting their sympathetic support and co-operation?

Hattiesburg is rapidly falling into line. Think of a thousand citizens of that progressive city requesting Hon. W. S. F. Tatum—a millionaire lumber man—to run for mayor. And they elected him, too, by a five to one majority. The people realized that their municipal business was in his way. They drafted the best business man, and the richest one in the city, to straighten things out. Laurel's progress and phenomenal growth is explained by the spirit of co-operation prevailing among her forward looking people. The Eastman-Gardner Lumber Company was the making of Laurel as the Great Southern Lumber Company was the making of Bogalusa. L. O. Crosby, R. Batson, Edward Hines, J. P. Newton, N. P. Hatten, Eastman Tate, R. J. Williams and others of the lumber, bank and business men could be the making of Pearl River county. Who is the mayor of Laurel? Hon. Charles Green, vice president of the Eastman-Gardner Lumber Company. How did he get the office? Lee Russell appointed him! "Yes, sir! It actually looks as if he had seen the light. Who made Gulfport? Some time since the people of Bay St. Louis were called upon by the same and best interests of the State, represented by the people, to sign a petition, addressed to the Secretary of State, asking that they be given a chance to vote upon the question whether or not the State revenue agent, along with other State officers, shall be put on a salary basis. This, the people, were specifically asked, as hinted in the petition, to sign the petition, which is now being circulated by the Secretary of State, asking that they be given a chance to vote upon the question whether or not the State revenue agent, along with other State officers, shall be put on a salary basis.

With cotton at less than 20 cents per pound, with everything that the farmers sell below the cost of production and everything they buy sky high in price; with business more or less demoralized on account of the coal and railroad strikes for the past few months, and with hundreds of employees out of work, $40,000 per year is too much money for one State official to draw.

Five thousand dollars per year and legitimate office expenses is a big salary for the State revenue agent. He ran for the office on a "salary platform," and the people of Mississippi should be given the privilege of voting upon this matter. It is their money that is being spent and they should and will have their say.

There is nothing new in changing officials from a fee or commission to a salary basis during their term of office.

BETTER SCHOOL YARDS.

Several towns in Illinois are entering contests for the best-kept school yards, and we can't help feeling a movement along this line would be a good thing for Bay St. Louis and Hancock county. As a general rule school trustees give attention solely to the building, and never consider that a little play equipment scattered here and there about the yard will not only enable the children to get the healthy exercise they need, but also make school life a little more pleasant for them. And a few flowers, that could be looked after by the girl pupils, would brighten both indoors and out. There is nothing more unsightly than a rubbish-strewn school yard, and few things more unhealthy. So why isn't the Illinois suggestion a good one, and why can't we have a contest along this same line here in Hancock county?

SEEKING NEW VICTIMS.

They say that the "slickers" who pray upon the unsuspecting and unwary and reap a harvest by sales of worthless stocks and by working "skin games" on people, are turning from the farmer—the time-honored victim of such robbery—to the city and town folks, finding them more responsive to appeals to get-rich-quick projects. The farmer has become wise to the old-time "skin games." He can't be fooled in such a fashion any more. He knows the ever present "for value received" element in all business, and he's hard to sell. He doesn't believe any longer that there's such a thing as getting something for nothing. Hence he won't bite when the "slicker" presents his wonderful scheme of getting rich over night. But the faker must have a prey somewhere, and working on the Barnum theory that a sucker is born every minute, he is hunting for those suckers in the cities and towns of this country. And from reports in the newspapers he seems to be doing quite a flourishing business.

DRASTIC MEASURES.

Politics or no politics, unions or no unions, the injunction issued in Chicago recently to prevent interference with men who want to make an honest living, and who have to work to support their families appears to have met with general approval. Several Bay St. Louis citizens in discussing it, have expressed the belief that it is the only measure that could prevent still more serious railroad conditions in the country than even now exist.

No man is going to dispute the right of men to organize, and to fight for better conditions. But when methods are resorted to which endanger the bread and butter of almost one hundred million people, and when such methods bring about conditions which mean increased prices for the food which goes into every mouth, then those who are not directly interested in the fight have a right to insist upon protection. No one will question the right of a man to quit his job if he wants to. But it will always be a question as to whether or not he is justified in using force to keep a man with a family to support from taking that same job if he can't get any other. Self-protection is nature's first law—and the man who takes a job under strike conditions must certainly be doing so to protect himself and his family from starvation.

Somewhat we can't bring ourselves to believe that labor and capital will ever get together by trying to starve the yellow men to death, or causing the innocent to suffer. The rail strike isn't going to settle the matter, regardless of how it is finally decided. It is going to come to a show down some of these days and we can't help but feel that the great mass of common people are going to have a voice in the settlement—and it's going to be settled for good.

IT LOOKS BRIGHTER.

While the hot, dry weather of late August and early September has resulted in some damage to the corn crop, there is still every indication that the nation will produce the 3,000,000,000 estimated by the Agricultural Department. With the exception of oats, which made a poor crop, and wheat, which is somewhat below the average, all crops are up to or close to average, and some, notably corn and potatoes, will be above average. With crops good and prices coming back, the American farmer seems to be assured of something closely approaching prosperity. The last two years have been discouraging for residents of rural districts, and a break in their luck will be welcome. Prices are now well above the pre-war level, and while there is no reason to expect a return to boom levels, there likewise is no reason to fear that the unprofitable prices of the readjustment period of 1920-21 will return.

Bay St. Louis people do not need to be told that when money finds its way to the rural sections it quickly finds its way to town. And that's why news of big crops at good prices should interest everybody.

AN OLD-TIMER GONE.

Ever since men first collected in villages and brought their horses and cows and sheep with them, men have come from the country hay lands selling hay. Citizens of towns like Bay St. Louis realize that the hay market is almost as old as the wheel in the life of man. In every American town since the white man settled on the continent some side street has been devoted to the man who came to town with a load of hay. This man has been the subject of personal paragraphs in the local papers for 200 years. He is a news source for reporters who want to know about crop conditions. The load of hay is the symbol of commerce between the town and the country, and the hay market was the common meeting place of agriculture and business.

And without due notice in writing the hay market has about gone. And with its going an ancient institution has disappeared. The horse has gone from the town, at least in great numbers. The auto and the truck do not eat hay. So an institution as old as Bible days suddenly has been wiped off the map of civilization. Someone should erect on the windy, shabby side street where the hay market once stood a monument bearing these words:

"Here, for 10,000 years and more, men bought hay. Here the honest farmer, with rocks in his load, and the sturdy citizen, who lied about his need of hay, met and gently tried to cut each other's throats, and now the auto dealer skins them both. And so the old order changeth lest one good custom should corrupt the world."

CERTAINLY WORTHY OF PATRONAGE.

Why send your boys and girls away to school and not send them the county paper? There's no better education—Carrollton Conservative.

Why send them off to school anyway, when there are just as good at home? Patronize both your home school and your home paper, is a mighty good rule to observe.—Jackson Clarion-Ledger.

GULF ROUTE OPENED WITH SPANISH TRAIL.

New Orleans' chief interest in the completion of the Old Spanish Trail lies in the fact that it will open up a route from the city to the Gulf Coast. Present indications are that the day is not far distant when New Orleans motorists will be able to motor at small cost to one of the country's most popular playgrounds.

Construction of bridges across Chief Menteur and the Rigolets is necessary to provide a through road to the Coast. While it is believed it will be some time before the State's finances will permit this expenditure, completion of roads between Chief Menteur and the Rigolets and between the Rigolets and Slidell will provide a route on which nominal ferry charges over Chief Menteur and the Rigolets will be the only expense.

The road from Chief Menteur to the Rigolets is nearing completion. The citizens of Slidell, under the leadership of Dr. J. D. Griffith, have formed a road district and have subscribed $250,000 for the construction of the road from the Rigolets to Slidell. This will eliminate the tedious ferry journey through the east end of Lake Pontchartrain, which now makes the cost of a motor trip to the Gulf Coast almost prohibitive.—Times-Picayune.

MISSISSIPPI BRANCH OF CONGRESS OF MOTHERS AND PARENT TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

The following instructive announcement from the Mississippi Branch of Mothers and Parent-Teachers' Association was received by Mrs. R. N. Stephens, chairman of the press and publicity bureau for Hancock county:

On September 6th the Board of Managers of the Mississippi Branch of Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers' Association held its first meeting in the Carnegie Hall at Jackson, Miss. The president, Mrs. L. H. Yarbrough, presided, and there were eighteen members present.

Reports were read by State officers, district chairmen and chairmen of standing committees. Splendid plans have been formulated, and the ensuing year promises to be one of valuable and uplifting assistance to our schools.

The dates of the district meetings to be held throughout the State were not definitely settled, but the president promises to lend her presence at each meeting.

Mr. J. W. Broom, assistant State superintendent of education, made a splendid address, praising the efficient work which has been accomplished throughout the State in P. T. A. circles.

Mr. Broom says that the P. T. A. is the right arm of the Department of Education, and is among the strongest agents to sell education. "Better School Work" will be aided, by this organization during the first and second weeks of October.

Mississippi has made more progress along educational lines in the past four years than any other State south of the Mason and Dixon line; and Mr. Broom gives credit to the power and influence which the P. T. A. has given.

Beginning with October there will be a Mississippi P. T. A. magazine, edited and circulated throughout the State which will be of much benefit to local organizations. A nominal sum of 25 cents will be charged for subscription, and it is the aim of the organization that the official State magazine be placed in every home throughout the State.

The Board of Managers announced at this meeting the adoption of P. T. A. Day, the object of which is to raise funds to assist in the financing of this fast growing organization. The date will be set and detailed plans will be formulated by our State chairman of finance, Mrs. H. M. McGee, of Jackson.

To stimulate further interest in P. T. A. work, the State organization has decided to erect a booth at the next Jackson, Miss., State Fair. Prizes will be awarded to local organizations making the best displays, demonstrating the efficiency of our influence and accomplishment.

Merchants should always bear in mind that the more sales they expose themselves to the more sales they will make. And that's where printer's ink comes in.

And the more sales they make, the more profit they get, and that's where printer's ink helps them to grow prosperous.—Clarion-Ledger.

The citrus growers of Harrison county met at Gulfport for the purpose of organizing the Mississippi Citrus Growers Association. There are 85 growers of citrus fruit along the Mississippi Coast, who have in the aggregate about 20,000 trees, most of which bear fruit, from which will be picked ten cars of fruit. At another meeting to be held in Gulfport today Dr. Winberg, famous fruit specialist, will deliver an instructive lecture. J. A. Taylor, agricultural agent for the Gulf and Ship Island Railroad, is behind the movement.

Mark Lee, playing shortstop for Greenwood, of the Cotton States League, recently accomplished a feat which probably secured him a world record. In the game Lee was at bat six times, during which he secured three home runs and a two-base hit and two singles. Two of the honors were not at first credited to him, the ball having struck a huge tree outside the park, rebounding back into it. A protest gave Lee credit for both of them, together with a third and a record very seldom accomplished in baseball. Lee resides in Ocean Springs, and is a resident of A. E. Lee, of the Ocean Springs Press.

SEA COAST ECHOES

There will be spent upon the Sea-shore Camp Grounds during the summer year for a brick school building and dormitory alone, $100,000, to which will be added other improvements in landscape and other work from time to time. This was decided upon at a meeting of the board of trustees held Tuesday, at which there were present representatives from the Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana conferences. Work upon the new structure will begin as soon as the landscape plans have been completed. The missionary boards will also be invited to come here from the three conferences, together with other big Methodist meetings.

BILOXI.

Biloxi Post, American Legion, is planning entertainment of 400 legionnaires October 15 and 16, at which time special trains will bring members of Michigan Post to that city for visits. Plans are also being made to operate a special excursion to accommodate the 800 ex-service men attending the convention in New Orleans, in which the Mississippi division will take prominent part.

Company K, 155th Infantry, Mississippi National Guard, composed of the 60 men under Captain A. O. Coleman and Lieutenant E. H. Hardy, were paid off Tuesday evening, causing $2,500 to be placed into circulation among the boys, who were paid for the past six months ending July 30th.

T. E. Werlein, chairman of the boys' work committee, was chairman of the day of the Biloxi Rotary Club Tuesday when an interesting program was carried out. President Carroll will name a convention committee to arrange for the big meeting of March next, at which time about 650 delegates will be present. To these will be appointed subordinate committees. A plan will be made by the club to secure lower rates from the L. & N. and S. I. Railroads for persons to Biloxi from Baltimore for employment in the local packing concerns.

The Biloxi Gun Club will meet for the purpose of electing new officers and to arrange for a more enthusiastic plan of holding local shoots during the winter months. The local organizations have a good membership, among whom are a number of expert marksmen.

Mrs. A. G. H. Bilbo, 64 years, a native of Harrison county, died Wednesday morning. Deceased leaves a husband and other relatives. She was buried in the cemetery near Van Cleve.

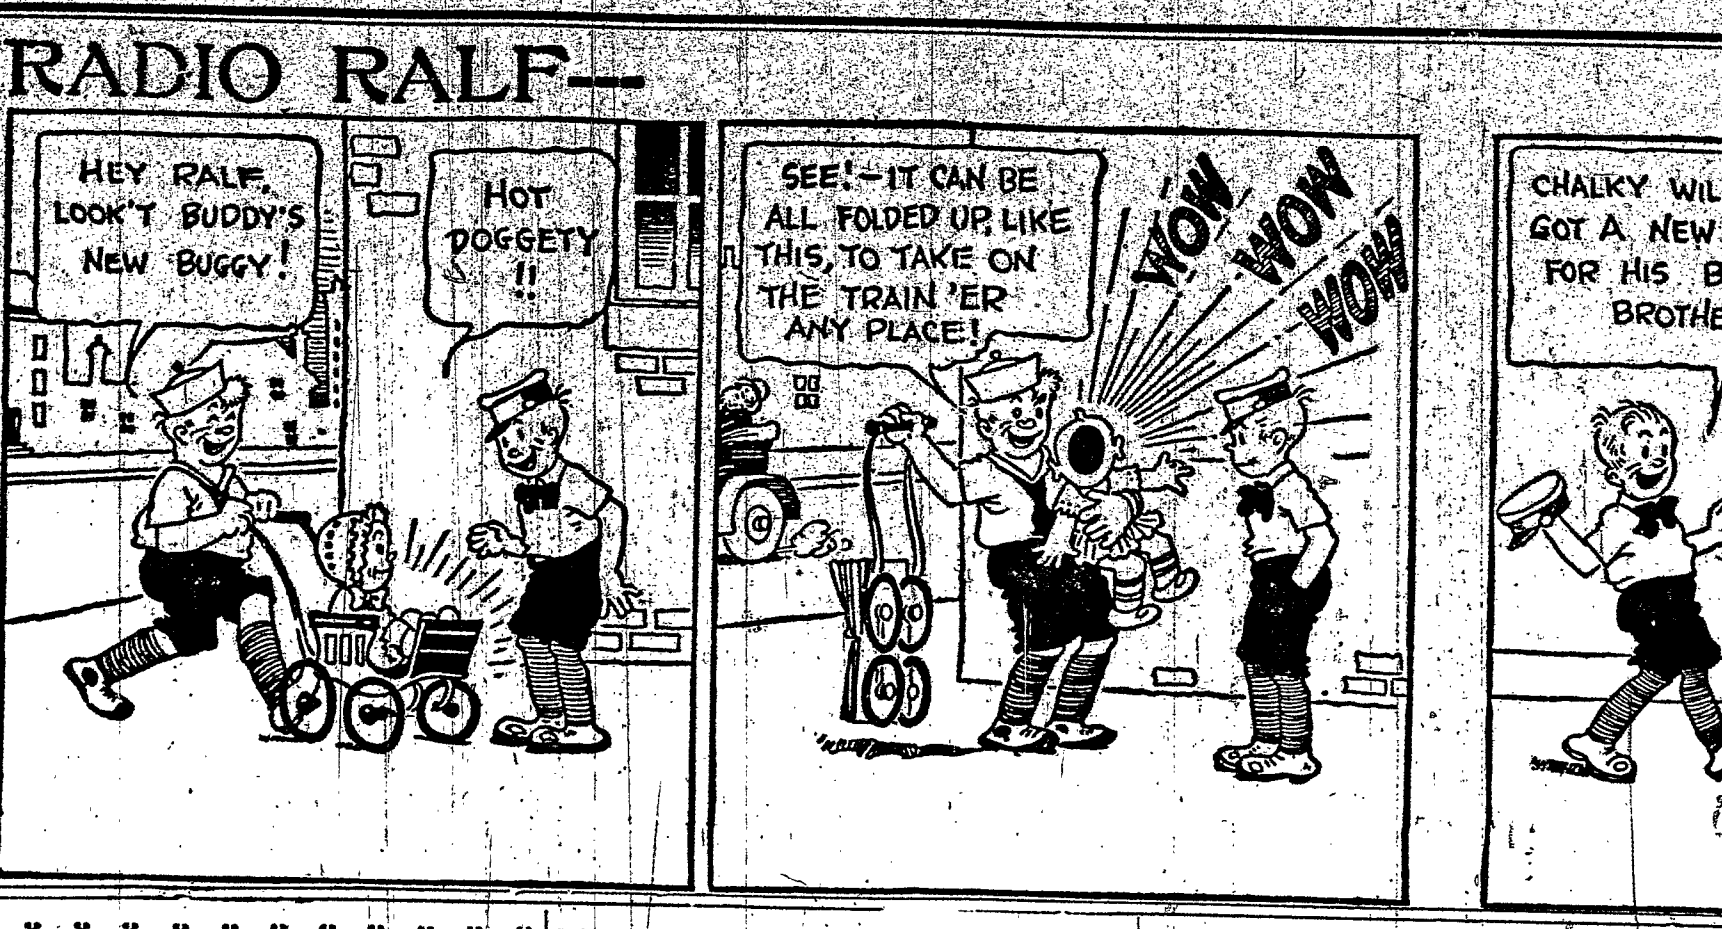

GULFPORT.

The Heath Construction Company of Gulfport filed petitions in bankruptcy in the federal court, together with a schedule of liabilities and assets, the matter of which has been referred to Referee in Bankruptcy J. L. Heiss.

An automobile driven by Miss Ernie Garenfo turned turtle on the West Beach driveway when the machine skidded and struck an iron fence. Four occupants of the car fortunately escaped serious injuries. The machine was damaged to some extent.

The Biloxi baseball club, which had a most successful season, has disbanded, the various players returning to their homes until next season, for which plans will be made early to have a strong representation. The local team won a large number of games from some of the strongest clubs in Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama, which gave them the right to claim the title for South Mississippi.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. Van Whitfield returned home during the week from a trip to Jackson, where Mr. Whitfield, as sheriff, transacted official business.

—Lovers of the national sport will have another opportunity tomorrow afternoon of witnessing an interesting game on the local diamond. The S. S. C. boys will cross bats with the invincible Loyals.

—A Battistella has an advertisement in this issue of The Echo announcing his readiness to purchase the local pecan crop. He will pay the highest price, consistent with size and quality of the nut.

—Mrs. S. C. McMillan, State street, left this morning for a visit to her former home, Martha, Tenn., where she will join her little daughter and remain for the balance of the fall and possibly part of the winter.

—Mr. George J. Muller came out from New Orleans Saturday evening for a week-end trip to visit friends and relatives. Member of a family party up Jordan river, he returned home with results of a most successful catch.

—Send that boy or girl of yours The Echo regularly during the school term. On payment of $1.00, in advance, we will send The Sea Coast Echo anywhere in the United States for the full school term. This is for students only.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Maloney and Miss L. Cuneo left during the early part of the week for New Orleans, making the trip overland in the Maloney sedan. Mr. Maloney intends purchasing another car, in which the return trip home will be made.

—Mrs. G. O. Gilbert, who recently purchased the handsome two-story Mattox dwelling in Washington street, will shortly move in for family occupancy, where she will be "at home" to her many friends. Miss Leone Gilbert is one of the bright pupils of St. Joseph's Academy.

—Mr. Harry Stuart Saucier, cashier of customs at New Orleans, is spending his vacation in Bay St. Louis these days. A wise man takes his vacation the best time of the year, and when fish are biting best! We know of no one more popular than the inimitable Fuller Bull, and his vacation will be a source of pleasure to the many local friends.

—Begin now to make your preparations to come to the Mobile Fair, held in Mobile by the Gulf States Agricultural and Live Stock Fair, inclusive from October 23rd to 29th, is the heading of an advertisement appearing in this issue of The Echo. The Mobile Fair promises big to say nothing of the educational side of the project. The exhibit of the Gulf Coast citrus fruits, including the famous satsuma, one of the leading and coming industries of this part of the country, will carry more than ordinary interest.

—There ought to be plenty of work in Bay St. Louis this fall and winter. With the building of the $60,000 three-story brick seminary building, the $100,000 brick two-story hotel building and other minor structures, including the continuation of the sea wall and waterworks structures, labor ought to be well employed, to say nothing of the minor and regular building.

—Louis Blaise, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Y. Blaise and Cyril Glover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Glover, left Monday morning for Starkville, Miss., where they have matriculated at A. and M. College. Both young gentlemen graduated with special honors from St. Stanislaus College in June of this year. Grady Perkins has also returned to A. and M. to pursue his third-year studies.

—There is much activity going on in Cedar Rest Cemetery, keeping the hallowed spot in the splendid shape in which it is generally kept. In contrast to other cemeteries, where the weeds and strewn wreckage seem to hold full sway, where the very spirit of neglect and utter abandon seem to permeate the very atmosphere, Cedar Rest shows constant attention by the authorities in charge, and the results as proper and fitting.

—Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Kellar returned home Monday from Jasper county, where Mrs. Kellar had been attending the sick bedside of her mother, Mrs. Emma McAlpin, who subsequently died, aged 71 years. Mrs. McAlpin had been ill for some time. In addition to her husband she is survived by seven children. Mrs. Kellar has the sympathy of the many friends in Bay St. Louis and over Hancock county.

—Mr. Emmett J. Kergosien, connected with the Beach Drug Store, matriculated at Loyola University, at New Orleans, Thursday, and enters upon the study of pharmacy. He is a graduate of St. Stanislaus College, an unusually bright and steady young man, and success is bound to crown his efforts. Mr. Kergosien intends daily trips to and fro.

—With the opening of the Bay city schools the local Parent-Teachers' Club has again entered into its field of activity and will continue its great usefulness to the community. Mrs. R. L. Breath is president and Mrs. R. N. Stephens secretary. The Echo notes this with no small degree of pride and interest. The club represents so much and has accomplished great work and its usefulness must be encouraged in every way possible.

—The financial statement of the Merchants Bank and Trust Company of Bay St. Louis, as called for quarterly by the Board of Bank Examiners, appears in this issue of the county paper. By reference it will be seen the bank has loans and discounts $462,432.89; due from other banks, $138,062.85; its surplus fund along with its capital stock total $80,000; individual deposits subject to check, $307,437.34; savings deposits, $140,372.92; time deposits, $107,164.63; a total of deposits amounting to $375,175.39. The statement is very flattering and speaks well for both city and county.

—Judging from the proceedings of the recent term of Circuit Court for Hancock county, which appear on the first page of this week's Echo, there has been considerable illicit traffic in liquor. It will be seen the court has not only made it unprofitable for the law violators, but unpleasant. A jail sentence is not to be forgotten. Judge Graham and the district and county prosecuting attorneys cleaned up the docket in great shape!

KERGOSIEN-GAINES.

Prominent Young Society Man of Bay St. Louis Weds. Prominent Young Lady of Monroe, La., at Gulfport Monday Evening.

Mr. Horace L. Kergosien, connected with the office of the clerk of the courts of Hancock county and well-known young society man of this city, and Miss Madeline Elizabeth Gaines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Gaines, prominent residents of Monroe, La., were united in holy wedlock at Gulfport, Miss., on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock September 18, 1922.

The ceremony was performed at the Catholic church in Gulfport, the pastor, Rev. Father Spengler, performing the ceremony. Leaving Gulfport that night the bridal couple returned to Bay St. Louis and registered at the Bay Hotel.

It was a pleasant surprise to the friends of the couple that evening when it was learned the marriage had occurred. They had stolen a march on their friends. Leaving here Monday evening on the 5 o'clock ferry the young people ostensibly were taking a trip across the bay, but on reaching the other side a taxi took them to Gulfport.

Mr. Kergosien is the second son of Dr. J. A. Kergosien, of Hancock county. He is a native of this county, a graduate of St. Stanislaus College and an attaché of the local office of county clerk, where he holds a responsible position. He is well and popularly known and the news of his marriage is learned with general satisfaction.

The bride, a former resident of Bay St. Louis, is no stranger here. On the contrary, she is also well and popularly known, and the two make an ideal couple. The groom is to be congratulated and the bride has the best wishes of all.

Mr. and Mrs. Kergosien have taken a garden-embowered cottage in beautiful Carroll avenue, between Front and Second streets, where they will be at home to their friends after October 1st.

The Echo joins in the happiest of felicitations.

PREPARING FOR $100,000 HOTEL.

New Bay Hotel, to Replace the Former Pickwick Hotel, Will Soon Become Reality—Handsome and Material Acquisition to Gulf Coast.

Architects have completed plans and specifications for the new Bay Hotel, to take the place of the present hotel buildings. The new structure as proposed, will be erected of brick, two stories and in addition to other quarters will comprise 152 rooms, to be equipped with the latest and most modern improvements. There will be nothing lacking in comfort for the entertainment of guests, both summer and winter.

It is planned to first erect the first of the three units which will compose the building when complete. Each will be complete in itself, yet all three will make one complete building. The structure will be H shaped. The first unit, which is expected to construct in the immediate future, will comprise some sixty-odd rooms, and will form the main wing. The lobby will be spacious and attractive and calls for ornate and artistic treatment.

Although a year since the Bay Hotel corporation took over the old Pickwick Hotel property, the success of the business has been such as to warrant the rebuilding of the hotel entirely anew, and when complete, it will be a very handsome and material acquisition to the Mississippi Gulf Coast. The estimated cost is $100,000. Plans will be publicly exhibited shortly.

H. S. Weston is president and E. J. Leonard is vice president of the Bay Hotel corporation. Other officers are Messrs. Engman, Battistella and Seal.

—Don't forget the Maccabee dance at the Bay Cafe Pavilion.

—Miss Jean Horton has gone to Etowah, Tenn., where she is the guest of her friend, Mrs. Richard Bryson, who before her marriage was Miss Isabel Grant, of this city. Miss Horton will return home by way of Chattanooga, and Birmingham, visiting friends at both places.

—Mr. Alfred de Montluzin, universally esteemed and beloved by all who know him best, leaves this evening for New Orleans on the first lap of a trip to France. From New Orleans he will go to New York City, thence to Europe. He has the best wishes of the community for a bon voyage and safe return.

Unit No. 1, of the Gulf Coast Studios, Inc., of Bay St. Louis, will reach here tomorrow morning from New Orleans and will take and break ground for building the Gulf Coast Studios, in Felicita street and Dunbar avenue. Later the officers will be entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Lettlen. The party will include some twenty-five people.

—Mr. Ernest Buckley, who has been in charge of the prescription department and the general business of the Beach Drug Store, will leave Bay St. Louis about October 1st. He goes to Ponchatoula, La., where he has entered into a partnership for the conduct of a drug business. His contemplated departure is noted with regret. While here he made many friends, and the best wishes of the community will follow him.

—Dr. A. A. Kergosien, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Horace Kergosien and Mr. Rodney Bishop, left here this noon in the Kergosien family car for a trip over the State that will occupy several days. They will spend tonight at Hattiesburg and tomorrow at Jackson. From Jackson they go to Vicksburg, from which place Mr. and Mrs. Kergosien will visit the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gaines, at Monroe, La.

—Bay St. Louis Maccabees, Tent No. 67, will give a dance at the Bay Cafe Pavilion Monday night, the 25th instant, benefit of building fund. The order recently purchased a building lot in Touleme, near Main street, and intends the building of a spacious and handsome hall at an early date. The committees for Monday's dance are: Arrangement—W. T. Hobbs, Freddie Eppard, G. E. Tennant. Floor committee—Simon L. Engman, Thos. Michado, W. H. Starr. Admission 50 cents, ladies 25 cents.

COLUMBIA BULL.

By Fuller Bull.

The Killona Giants paid a very pleasant visit to our ill burg on last Sabbath. The Babes in the woods, from the House of Brains met the cruel foreaid Giants; an' while the K. G.'s went to sleep out on the Campus, the naughty Babes battled 'em for a row of the goblets to the viz: Under the leadership of a babe named Gex, the infants tortur'd the victims 'neath a shiny sky where the verdant fields an' shimmer'd o'er the verdant fields. 'Wow, mother, please, pluck me a couple Giants!'

A Giant who cude up under the Non de Bat of "Bangur" (a cement pillow is the prize f. any guy what pronounces it right) essayed to curv 'em (he might know how to 'essay' it, but that's all) over the rubber, an' the babe grab for the hazzards, an' robin with Nine bingles—cause id cause they refused to credit His Excellency the Bishop for that sacker what he poled out in the deep wildness over center, simply 'cause the Holy lad didn't toe the list sack on his journey on the other hand, the Giants got the hazzards, an' nifty lad stole everything except the umpire's reputation, an' when he slipped in over the RUBBER—well, that ended Monsieur Bangur.

The family records put the final score at 7 to—no, I can't say it.

Somebody upset a Garbage Can up in South Bend, Ind., lately an' the rottenness of it has floated on the press breeze till it has now seeped itself into every cranny of this land. All of which is in re that (Gernan case) a case where the line of the "Big Dollar" has been stronger than a man or woman's honor.

Any guy what thinks so dern little of his own name as this "Noted" College Prof. who'll enlarge pictures of his family's rotten record, had ought to be fit grub for the hazzards, an' we're doggone glad that we don't live in the same burg with him.

It looks very much to us as if this galoot is playin' to the gallery with one-eye set on Hollywood an' a ear opened for an offer of easy coin.

After this is over a committed of respectable A. No. 1 Americans oughta get both this Tiernan guy an' a nother galoot by the name of Stillman, take 'em about 'steen miles from nowhere an' Maroon 'em where a decent public would never hear of them again.

We heard it whispered that some gazook is gointa clamp down the lil TIGHT on our lil burg next Sunday, s'ose a guy can't get a thing unless it's some paregoric to stop the cramp what the law's gointa give most folks.

This sur is the AGE OF IG, ain't it? An' Bo, the State of Miss gets the cast iron socks for bein' the buggiest of the bugs. Some time ago we paused to remark that La. would yet build her a high fence along the big river to hide her neighbor, an' that we wouldn't even be recognized as Alabama's back yard—well, O timer, it's fast gettin' to the point, ain't it?

We reckon that we'd better wait a spell, eh?

There's a guy of 'the Battlin' game what's callin' himself Pancho Villa what to the recent has knocked Johnny Buff for a row of jugs an' clamped onto the Champ belt in his lil weight; this guy's from the Phila-prunes Islands, an' he's challenged by a Yahoo Indian for a fight soon.

Gosh, if that ain't mixin' up the colors we never heard of it; first thing we know some pink eyed Esquimo is gointa invade the padded canvas.

If the Pass is Patriotic—How About Bay St. Louis?

The afflicted boys at the Gulfport Navy Hospital have many friends at the Pass, as was shown by the exceedingly generous support extended them in their minstrel performance that was put on here for the benefit of their athletic fund. At the Pass nearly one hundred and fifty dollars was raised by the boys in the minstrel, while the same show given at Gulfport by the same boys a week or so previous netted some sixty-odd dollars. In comparison with the size of the two towns, if Gulfport is 100 per cent patriotic, Pass Christian is 1000 per cent so! When it comes to substantially showing patriotism, the Pass has never failed to go over the top.—Pass Christian Beacon.

Bay St. Louis, with its population not to be compared with Gulfport's, and a little over that of Pass Christian, sent in $193.00 net receipts from a similar entertainment.

vass, an' it ain't gointa surprise us a tall.

Thanksgivin's comin' along pretty rapid these days: England's goin' after her Turkey already, an' wants Nonc Sam to get in line; but we ain't lost no Turkey, specially when its mixed up in so doggon much Greece.

It wouldn't lay well on Sam's stomach nohow.

Wonder how deep them law-makers gointa dig the grave.

Keep your eye peeled for us next week, bo, we're gointa take the bride off ENTIRELY.

Making 20 Years of Racing Serve Car Owners Today

IN the early days of automobile contests, Barney Oldfield—out to win every race—studied tires. His consistent success led other drivers to ask for tires constructed to his specifications.

Twenty years of road and track victories—with a steady and increasing demand for tires as he built them—convicted Barney Oldfield that these speed tests pointed the way to a better tire for everyday use.

The enthusiastic reception of Oldfield Cords by the public proved he was right. Scores of the most prominent dealers in the country—and many thousands of car owners, experienced in the use of tires—bear witness by their decided preference that Oldfield is doing a bigger and better job of tire making.

This volume, handled in an effective way in every phase of manufacture and distribution, has resulted in price quotations far below what you'd expect on tires known to be better built and more enduring.

Practically every important race event for three years has been won on Oldfields. The Wichita Test Run in which an entire set of Oldfield Cords covered 34,525 miles on rough roads proves the mettle of the Most Trustworthy Tires Built in everyday driving.

The Master Driver and Tire Builder has given the public a new standard of tire wear and tire cost—a true economy that every car owner should know about.

Your Oldfield dealer has these facts—talk to him.
